PRESS RELEASE

April 14, 2010

(Dayton, Ohio) Bullying by school children is now on the rise culminating in an alarming increase in the suicide rate throughout the United States.

Children need to be educated at an early age about how to respect and treat each other, especially those who are different, the elderly, and the environment in order to prevent problems when they grow older.

This subject is dealt with directly in the children's book, "And The Tree Cried Out" by noted author and elementary school teacher Marcella Barrett, MA and is meant to be used as a tool for open discussions.

This book needs to be in the hands of every child and school teacher from 3rd through 6th grades and is available in English and Spanish at www.BarrettBooksDayton.com:
